

PLUGANDPLAY

Remote drill site locations, shortages in professional man-power, and logistics in general make getting to the initial production phase much easier said than done.

Engineered Concepts' combination production packages arrive on the site ready to install. All piping, metering and electrical is ready to go and built to the specifications of your engineering and field personnel. In most cases the only hook-ins required are the floats, the stack, inlet and outlet piping and electrical.

EASY AS 1,2,3

Engineered Concepts production packages can include a high-pressure separator, free water knock out, treater and fuel gas source all on a single skid. Everything required to set the system up is included in the shipment and ready to assemble in the field eliminating logistics hassles, delay and costly onsite installations.
